THE STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE

THE WALLACE CUSTOM BUILDERS STORY

With very humble beginnings, but a bold vision, James Wallace founded Wallace Custom Builders in 1998 after having worked in construction because he saw something missing in the homes that were being built in Sumner County. Having been in the construction business for more than 30 years, he had a unique skill set that allowed him to create truly custom home renovations and new construction without the costly delays of having to go back and forth between the building and redrawing stage.

Wallace has an unrelenting pride of craftsmanship and a focus on the finer points of the design and construction processes, resulting in impeccable quality that is unmatched. Over the years, Wallace built a reputation as the builder of choice to work with in Sumner County and as a result, they have assembled a team of peerless subcontractors with a shared passion for creating beautiful spaces. The end result is precisely what you envision.

HOW WE WORK

Throughout the building process, you can rest assured that your home will be constructed with meticulous attention to design, detail and quality.

LISTEN:

We listen to your thoughts and wishes in order to build the home of your dreams. Our goal is to make working together an enjoyable experience and the project run as smoothly as possible.

DESIGN:

We have the capability to design your new home if you don't already have your plans. We will sit down with you to study your plans and make suggestions that fit your lifestyle, needs and budget.

COMMUNICATION:

We consult with you on a regular basis with any ideas or concerns that may arise during the construction process. Communication is the key to achieving the goal of building the home of your dreams.

SUPERVISION:

We believe that on-site supervision is a vital part of construction. With supervision, the project runs smoothly and efficiently. We will have regular job site meetings with you, so we can walk through the home together to discuss the progress.

ACCOUNTABILITY:

Our billing process is completely transparent. In addition to full and detailed invoicing, we provide copies of every receipt so you know exactly where your money is being spent. This method of invoicing ensures that you know where the project costs are compared to the original estimate, and helps you track labor and material expenses throughout the process.

QUALITY:

We strive to build our homes with the highest quality and integrity. We are proud of our work and will take you on various property tours of completed homes and encourage you to talk with the homeowners. You will have various quality products to choose from that fit your lifestyle and your budget. We believe that your investment should last a lifetime and we are proud to stand behind our work by providing a warranty with every home. You deserve to be pleased with your new home and we want to be your friends long after the project is completed.

Few things in life evoke the warmth, peace and joy of creating and building the home of your dreams. We understand the importance of getting it just right. This is the largest investment you're going to make. With our knowledge, insight, experience and dedication to your vision, we will get it right and create the place you've always wanted.

IN THEIR WORDS...

"Wallace Custom Builders has an outstanding reputation throughout Middle Tennessee. I found his business is predicated on honesty and exceptionally high quality workmanship. I have recommended James Wallace to several of my friends and business associates and am confident to recommend him as I believe his past reputation will continue to outpace other custom builders."
